"iTunes Chart-Topping Album from MOBO Award Nominated & BEFFTA Award Winners, Sam Adebajo & DTWG (Desire To Worship God)"

DTWG (Desire to Worship God) started in 2003 when Sam Adebajo: the visionary of this urban praise and worship team had a passion to see change in the music industry. 'I have seen the negative effect secular music has had on many people I grew up with' says the front-man. This ultimately spurred a passion for "the lost" and the birth of Sam & DTWG.

Sam Adebajo went from being a Muslim, being homeless and being in trouble with the law, to being a man after God's own heart. His experience has encouraged him to go out and his share his testimony through song!

Sam & DTWG are becoming a household name on the UK Gospel Scene. It's not surprising with their rich harmonies, soulful arrangements and contagious melodies. Their songs are influenced by experiences in their daily walk with God. Their vision is "to use the powerful message of the gospel to impact our generation; as well as promoting gospel music in mainstream communities". Sam & DTWG's music style is an eclectic gospel mix; it comprises of contemporary worship, neo-soul, R'n'B with funky beats, and African-inspired sound.

Founded in 2003, they have many accomplishments under their belts; having shared the stage with the likes of Mary Mary, Emeli Sande, Muyiwa and Riversongz, Ron Kenoly and many more...Additionally, they have performed at celebrities' functions and events including the wedding of BBC Match of the Day presenter, Colin Murray.

it's clear to see that their music is well received by Christians and non-Christians alike.

Other notable recognitions includes their 2011 appearance on the Channel 4 show Jamie Oliver's Christmas with Bells, receiving both a Praise-Tek Gospel Music Award in 2012 for Great Contribution to Gospel Music and taking home the BEFFTA Award 2010 for Best Gospel Act. Sam & DTWG has also been nominated for Best Gospel Act in the following: Urban Music Award 2010, the Gospel Music Awards 2010 & 2009 and the MOBO Award in 2009. In addition to these achievements, this talented group of worshippers have embarked on two UK tours and featured on the national "TruPrint" campaign, advertised on national television.

More about the Album...

The Mission: The first CD on the double disc album; presents Sam Adebanjo & DTWG in a whole new light. They've taken it back to their African roots; you'll be sure to be dancing to the vibrant AfroBeats and singing along with the infectious African Gospel Praise. So whether you listen to this as you're getting ready in the morning, or in your car after a long day, this part of the album will definitely uplift, inspire and motivate you.

The Vision: Sam Adebanjo & DTWG return to the sound you know and love, with this second CD on the double disc album. This disc features well-known artists such as Keshia McFarland, Osmond Collins, Decca recording-artist Kristyna Myles, Andrew Bello, Adrian T, and Muiyiwa of Riversongz (Premier Radio, Turning Point TV, BBC Radio presenter and Recording Artist). Make sure to listen out for the sweet vocals of some of the members of the New Direction Choir in Chicago, USA.

This double-disc album definitely shows how Sam & DTWG have come a long way from their freshman release, DTWG (Desire To Worship God): The Project. All the songs are co-written and co-produced by Sam Adebanjo, who had the pleasure of working alongside incredible producers such as Dontaniel Kimbrough, Inner Productions, Altar Sounds, Beautiful Soundz and James Ritchie. This collection has a song for everyone; do you want something that is soulful, encouraging, R'n'B, rock, pop or Afrobeats? Well, The Vision/The Mission double-disc album has all of this and more!
